“Our mission is to be the most trusted global shipbroking firm, which nurtures talent and always puts the needs of its customers first.”

Stanko Jekov—Managing Partner, SSY

OUR VALUES

Trust

Trust is fundamental to SSY
- without it, we wouldn't exist.

For over 145 years, our customers have placed their trust in us. In return, we trust in our own ability and judgement to always do the very best for our customers' business.

Independence

Independence is what defines SSY
- in business and in spirit.

Since our inception in 1880, our independence has given us the freedom to chart our own course while ensuring, above all, that we always put the needs of our customers first.

Expertise

Expertise is what fuels SSY, it's why we have continued to shape and influence the shipbroking industry for more than a century.

Undoubtedly, it is our people and their expertise which is our greatest asset. It is only through our collective expertise can we continue to move the maritime space forward.

We believe that experience matters...

Our 145 years of experience as a trusted broking partner the experience of our broking and researching experts and most importantly, the experience that our clients receive from us. Proudly independent, we have grown to become the largest privately owned broking house in the world. Consistently chartering our own course and in doing so, have shaped the broking industry that we know today.

Derivatives

SSY Futures is one of the world's leading specialists in executing freight and commodity futures and options with dedicated offices in London, Singapore, Dubai and Stamford CT, ensuring a global reach.

- Risk management for investors and speculators
- Forward Freight Agreements (FFAs)
- Iron Ore, Coking Coal, Base Metals, Raw Materials
- Covering Futures and Options
- Provide hedge for freight costs and earnings
- Carbon team
- Settlement against transparent and trusted indices
- Direct dealings with major charterers, ship owners, banks and financial institutions
- Members of Baltic Exchange and Forward Freight Agreement Brokers' Association (FFABA)

Freight

SSY Futures has been at the heart of the Forward Freight Agreement (FFA) market since its inception. Our global team ensure complete market coverage.

With an extensive client base covering the full range of market participants including shipowner/operators, charterers and physical and financial traders, our core skill is accessing volume and liquidity to provide a precise and rapid execution service.

Our Dry Cargo desk covers all the main vessel sizes; Capesize, Panamax, Supramax and Handysize. We also offer a specialist broking service for LNG FFA's

Bulk Commodities

Informed by SSY's global position as a leading Dry Cargo broker, it was a natural step for SSY Futures to expand into Bulk Commodities.

Today, we are a leading futures broker in iron ore, coking coal and steels and have been at the forefront of the options market since inception.

Based in London, Singapore, Dubai and Stamford CT, we offer global coverage and rapid access to volume and liquidity. Often transacting deals significantly above the normal market size and regularly assisting our customers in building complex package deals and strategies.

Battery Materials

The growth in electric vehicle demand has seen an increase in volatility in the underlying market for battery materials. SSY Futures is working closely with market participants at the forefront of this fast growing derivatives market.

Base Metals & Delivery Premiums

Differing premiums are charged for making or taking delivery of LME metals in their global network of warehouses.

As a pure execution service provider, SSY Futures can access liquidity in the base metals market and delivery premiums market. Deals are arranged on an agency basis, or via named give-up.

Our fast growing presence in this business evidences the importance traders place in our ability.

Uranium Markets

In August 2025, SSY Futures acquired Uranium Markets LLC, a US-based brokerage specialising in nuclear fuels. Operating in both the US and UK, Uranium Markets is a leading intermediary in the sector, providing market access and execution for fuel buyers, sellers and financial participants. The firm continues to trade under the Uranium Markets name.

The acquisition expands SSY's coverage into the nuclear energy space, reflecting growing demand for clean, stable power sources. With nuclear set to play a key role in the global energy mix, this addition strengthens the SSY Futures proposition.

Carbon

The SSY Futures carbon desk is at the hub of a group wide carbon service. It draws on data and research resources from within SSY and our strategic partners.

This enables our customers to reliably estimate their carbon requirements and source both EU and other compliance systems as well as voluntary offsets efficiently and competitively.

Accessing both futures and options and physical spot markets, we offer a perfect solution to procure, accumulate and warehouse carbon certificates, manage risk and maximize cashflow efficiencies. Assisting clients who wish to hedge their future exposures as well as transacting in the physical markets.

Our customer base is drawn from our extensive relationships within the global freight and commodity markets as well as the existing traders in this already long-established market.

LNG

SSY's LNG team offers international coverage to our customers with a variable range of broking capabilities. Our team specialises in the LNG spot market, long term chartering, projects, Small Scale and LNG Bunkering, Sale and Purchase and newbuildings.
